The marriage of Helen Louise Matthews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. Walter Matthews, RR 8, St. Thomas, and Roger Murray Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Campbell, RR 2, Dutton, was solemnized in Yarmouth Centre United Church on Saturday, March 14. 1970

The two o'clock in the afternoon ceremony was performed by Rev. Barry Thomas, with Rev. George Shields assisting.

The choir of the church, of which the bride is the organist, sang an anthem, The Lord Is My Shepherd, during the service, accompanied by Mrs. Fred Martin. Miss Patti Collins was the soloist.

Yellow chrysanthemums were placed on either side of the altar to make a lovely setting for the bride who was escorted down the aisle by her father. She wore a gown of white crepe, featuring an empire waistline, long sleeves, a high neckline and a flowing floor-length skirt all enhanced with heavy white fan-shaped lace. A double-bow headress held her floor-length veil also bordered with the same lace, and she carried a cascade bouquet of red roses arranged with white hyacinth florets and white velvet streamers.

For something old, the bride wore an heirloom ring of sapphires and rubies, that belonged to her great-aunt. shvelvet

Miss Lois J. Holborn, the maid of honor, chose a floor-length gown, with a bodice and long sleeves of forest green velvet and a contrasting A-line skirt of mint green crepe, accented with a forest green velvet bow at the empire waistline. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow carnations intertwined with forest green velvet leaves to match the bodice of her gown.

Acting as flower girl was the small niece of the bride, Miss Paula Sue Sheppard, who was pretty in a short white crimpolene dress trimmed with little red roses. She carried a nosegay of one red rose encircled with white hyacinths.

R. Ian Foster, RR 4, Aylmer, performed the duties of best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church hall.

For travelling the bride chose a cerise crimpolene dress, with bell-shaped sleeves and stand-up collar trimmed with black and silver lace. Black patent accessories and a white orchid corsage tied with silver ribbon completed her ensemble.

Following their wedding trip to points east the young couple has taken up residence at 28A First Avenue.

THE BRIDE'S MOTHER -by Patience Strong

She smiles upon the smiling bride. She hears the church bells chime. In the merry crowd she mingles, busy all the time.... She makes the day a great success. She plays her part with grace- and looks with joy and pride upon her daughter's happy face.

But when it's over and the guests have said their last goodbyes- she does not try to hide the tears that burn behind her eyes.... Alone at last she opens up the gates of memory- and sees once more the little girl she nursed upon her knee.

"Love is very patient, very kind.
Love knows no jealousy,
Love makes no parade,
Gives itself no airs,
Is never rude, never selfish, never irritated, never resentful.
Love is gladdened by goodness
Always slow to expose.
Always eager to believe the best,
Always helpful, always patient.
LOVE NEVER DISAPPEARS."

Young Johnny still has an Oldsmobile

He loved a dear little girl.

She was the Queen of his gas machine,

She set his heart awirl

Come away with me Lucille,

In my merry Oldsmobile.

Down the road of life we'll fly

Automobiling you and I

To the church we'll swiftly steal,

And the wedding bells will peal

You can go as far as you like with me,

In our merry Oldsmobile.
