

Check It In, Check It Out – 2017 Episode Guide

Date first Aired	Podcast Title	Books & Authors Featured	Meet . . .	Find out . . .	Time
March 6, 2017	The Sister Show	Zoe’s Room (No Sisters Allowed) by Bethanie Deeney Murguia and No Fighting, No Biting! By Else Holmelund Minarik	Lily and Charlotte, a couple of sisters who love the library, and Liam and Emilie, who helped out with the intro	. . . how to be a good big sister, and why fighting with your sister can be dangerous!	16:56
May 29, 2017	How Do You Eat Your Peas?	Spoon by Amy Krouse Rosenthal, illustrated by Scott Magoon and Eat Your Peas by Kes Gray, illustrations by Nick Sharratt	Joshua and Shalem, brothers who have been on the show before, and Dakota, who helps out with all parts of this show!	. . . just how much Daisy doesn’t like her peas, and the ups and downs of being a spoon.	14:28
Aug. 14, 2017	Who Doesn’t Love Horses?!	Cowgirl Kate and Cocoa by Erica Silverman; illustrations by Betsy Lewin, and Black Beauty by Anna Sewell, adapted by Cathy Dubowski	Annie who introduces the show and does the credits, and Alana who knows about horse’s hooves and horseshoeing.	. . . how to convince a horse to get horseshoes, and the thoughts of a horse who lived 150 years ago	16:14
October 9, 2017	Little Geniuses	Big Words for Little Geniuses by Susan Patterson & James Patterson, illustrated by Hsinping Pan, and “The Four Wise People” retold by Gail Neary Herman can be found in Spinning Tales, Weaving Hope , edited by Ed Brody	Lily and Charlotte, back by popular demand, are sisters who already know lots of big words! And now they know even more.	. . . challenging and unusual words like rapscaillon and bibliomania, and also find out why it’s not a good idea to breathe life into a wild animal!	15:31