

Colonel Talbot's Home

Colonel Talbot's desk

A giant tree planted by Colonel Talbot as a landmark for sailors.

Birds-eye view of Port Talbot

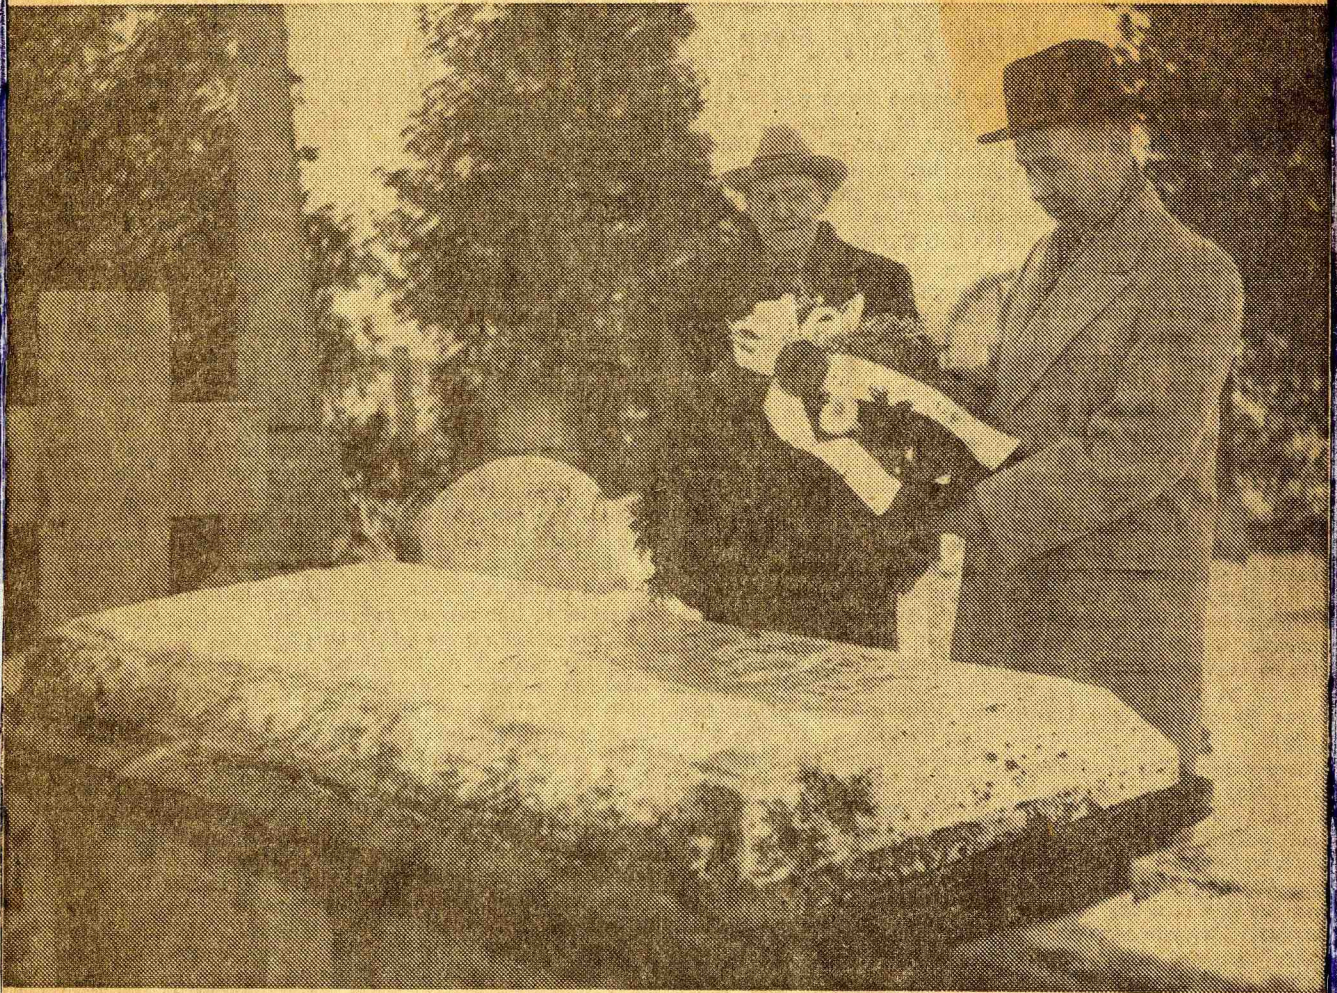

Cemetery where Col. Talbot lies buried

February 7, 1959

Tribute Paid Colonel Talbot

In near-zero weather 126 years ago, a group of distinguished early colonists and builders buried Colonel Thomas Talbot in historic St. Peter's Cemetery at Tyrconnell. Colonel Talbot brought out more than 200,000 settlers to Western Ontario, laid out roads and completed the first survey of this part of Upper Canada. Deputy-Reeve Garnet Speers, of Port Stanley, right, on behalf of Elgin County council, and John E. Pearce, on behalf of St. Peter's Anglican Church, placed a wreath on the crypt that overlooks Lake Erie.