The Purpose...

...of the Elgin Military Museum is to collect, preserve, identify and exhibit momentos of Canadian military history, with an emphasis on Elgin County and its residents. Most material is Canadian, but some is from other countries whose military history has been linked at some time to this country's. Many of the most treasured items in our collection have been gifts from private individuals.

... Since the landing of Colonel Thomas Talbot at Port Talbot in 1803, there have been few families who, at one time or another, have not had a father, son, or daughter serving in the armed forces of Canada.

Our area has a most enviable history in the defense of Canada and our Canadian way of life, both within our country and abroad. Many battle honours and awards, including a Victoria Cross have been awarded to the gallant men and women of Elgin, for service in the War of 1812, 1837 Rebellion, Fenian Raids, Riel Rebellion, Boer War, World War I, World War II. Korea and Peace Keep-

It is the intention of the Museum to preserve the background and history of our Elgin military ancestors, so that the youth of today and tomorrow may understand something of the life and times of those who so unselfishly fought for us.

School Workshops...

... The Elgin Military Museum has produced some workshops suitable for school groups. For more information on these workshops or to book a group tour please call

Research...

...Since the Museum opened to the public in 1982, a continuing project has been to develop records on the military efforts of the people of Elgin County. Today, these records now consist of over 9,000 individual files, and are often used by people conducting research into military history or searching family genealogies. We also house a vast reference library of thousands of military books and other research materials.

Wallacetown W.I. meets at the station By Kathy Minnema the government and by dedicated volunteers

The Wallacetown W.I. met at the south Dunwich Community Hall in Wallacetown and carpooled to St. Thomas to tour the Elgin County Railway Museum for our October meeting. There were seven members and four men in attendance. Convener Sally McIntyre introduced us to our tour guide Grant Hughson, the Fundraising Chair person of the North American Railway Hall of Fame.

St. Thomas was known as the railway capital of Canada and dates back to 1856 when the London and Port Stanley Railway was completed.

It was the 2nd largest station in Canada and the halfway point between New York and Chicago with 120 trains passing through the town. The Trans-Canada limited was the fastest train in Canada to use these tracks. They employed up to 30,000 workers.

The Superintendent Office was at the southwest corner of the station on the second floor where he could see how everything was going at any point of the day. If there were any problems, this is where it was reported and all problems would be dealt with. The mailroom had the main clock to which every watch was set. All employees received their pay in cash on a set day and time.

The restoration of this building has been done through fundraising and grants from who put hours of their time and expertise into the marketing. Programs like 400,000 bricks to be sold, 162 windows replaced, cash donations, and group tours all help with

Sally thanked Grant for our tour and presented him with a donation. Then we went to Arthur Voaden Secondary School for a three-course meal put on by the student entrepreneurial program under the leadership of Mike Flynn.

The meeting was opened by President Helen Van Brenk. The roll call: When was your first train ride and where to? Many traveled from the age of 4 years to 16 years for the first time. Meeting reports were given. The upcoming London area Conservation held at the Keystone Complex in Shedden was discussed and arrangements made for rides and the program were made.

Wallacetwon W.I. are responsible for two light and lively sessions which, with the help of members, was organized by Kathy Minnema. Darlene Ford announced a Mystery Tour bus trip planned for Nov. 27.

The meeting was adjourned.

Next meeting: Thursday Nov. 6 at 1:00 p.m. Meet at the South Dunwich Community Hall. Tour the Elgin County Museum "Pinecroft Display" and lunch at the Talbot trail. Men are welcome.

OUR FUTURE

The Canada Southern Railway Station is a dynamic, highly visited, beautifully restored Station, functioning as the catalyst to St. Thomas' overall downtown revitalization.

Within five years, we see thousands of people coming to admire this unique historic structure restored to the majesty of this former corporate headquarters. Exterior features will be restored to their original, including the reconstruction of the canopy surrounding the building.

The station is now the centre of activity as residents and visitors take part in a range of activities.

The Canada Southern Railway Station's architecture and history provide the basis for marketing the Station as a unique, prestigious heritage property. The Station is virtually a horizontal "skyscraper", and its size and design lend the building an aura and dominating presence any city would be proud to call their own.

Membership in the organization costs $25 per year and includes a quarterly newsletter, membership card and tax receipt. Please call us to join our exciting team. Sponsorship opportunities are available for room naming and can receive a tax receipt. Station tours, education programs and room rentals may be booked by contacting the office.

More than 20 offices are available for lease, providing access to the main dining hall for special events, meetings, parking, restaurants, outdoor market and other retail. With ceilings of 16 feet, wood floors, beautifully restored windows and architectural features, state of the art connectivity and extensive views onto former railway lands, an office at the Canada Southern puts you at the centre of the historic future.

HALL RENTAL AVAILABLE

The main dining hall of this historic building provides a unique setting for a variety of events such as weddings, business meetings, private functions and parties.

OUR HERITAGE

In 1873 the Canada Southern Railway Station opened, marking the beginning of an era when railways dominated the economy of St. Thomas, making the city the railway capital of Canada. This passenger and freight line provided the shortest distance between Chicago and New York and brought about immediate population growth and cosmopolitan influences. At over 360 feet long, the station was the corporate headquarters of the company, providing unequalled architectural splendour for passengers and staff. The Italianate architectural style, unusual for a Canadian station, is protected by a heritage easement with the Ontario Heritage Trust and enjoys a national designation under the Heritage Railway Stations Protection Act.

FOR THE TIMES-JOURNAL

The Wallacetown Women's Institute met at the South Dunwich Community Hall and carpooled to Springfield to the home of Wilfred and Rhonda Mc-Naughton for their March meeting. There were four members present.

Mrs. McNaughton gave the ladies a tour through their home which was the first post office for the community.

A lunch was provided convener Kathy

Minnema and the donation towards it went to the Aylmer District Museum.

Our speaker for the afternoon was Pat Zimmer from the Aylmer District Museum. She gave us a history of the post office which came from the Institute member Evelyn Hoshal:

It dates to 1854 when mail was carried by horseback. Capt. Clunas was the first postmaster.

The Kilpatrick family of . the mail. Springfield ran the post office around 1877.

In 1910 postage was one cent and by 1920, it had risen to two cents.

Kathy Minnema thanked Pat Zimmer for coming and gave a dona-Tweedsmuir History of tion on behalf of our Institute for the museum.

You can also supply your own items to be added to the basket, for example: wine, cheese, nuts or any buiness or promotional items such as pens, mugs, magnets, etc.

Feel free to contact us with any questions.

Homemade jam, the way your Mom and Grandma used to make it. Small batches, made with only quality ingredients - that has been In A Jam's way since started in 1997.

Debbie McCallum, owner & creator of In A Jam - began making jams & jellies in her own kitchen and selling them at local craft sales and farmer's markets. Soon the demand for her preseves started to grow, so, in 1999 a kitchen just for the jams was built onto the family homestead. By 2005, more room was needed. the business moved to Melbourne, Ontario - where it currently resides. All products are now made in a completely renovated location, which is inspected by the Middlesex London Health Unit.

Debbie still creates and markets the products herself. All the jams and jellies are created with top quality ingredients, and are made in small batched, open kettle fashion.

BY KATHY MINNEMA FOR THE TIMES-JOURNAL

WALLACETOWN -The September meeting of the Wallacetown Women's Institute had 10 members and two guests ಥ present.

They met at the South Dunwich Community Hall and car-pooled to Melbourne, Ont., were they visited, In A Jam, owned and created by Debbie McCallum.

Ms. McCallum gave us a tour of her business and explained how she purchases, produces and markets close to 100 different types of jams, jel-lies, pickles and gift baskets, all of various sizes.

She started her business needed more space, then moved to Melbourne.

Every item is home-made the old-fashioned way in small batches, in the open-kettle fashion.

Her gift baskets can be items from her store or you can supply your own items to help promote your business.

Darlene Ford thanked Ms. McCallum for sharing her time. They both sup-plied a light lunch of scones and jams, with a drink for the ladies. President Helen Van Brenk opened the meeting and reports were given. She had attended the Tweedsmuir Workshop in Kirkton, Ont., in August. Sally McIntyre gave an

THE MAIL MUST GO THROUGH

The mail must go through, is a very old saying that still applies today. We all depend on the mail to get to its destination as quickly as possible. In some cases it can take time but on the other hand it can be incredibly fast. I have mailed a card to family here in Springfield and it has been recieved the next day. Now that's amazing. I can send a letter to Holland and it will be recieved in 7 to 10 days.

We take alot for granted, don't always appreciate what services we are receiving until they are not there. Since 1965 there have been 19 major postal strikes. Introducing changes, many issues have been delt with to protect the workers, security has become a very big item everywhere. Did you know the first post office was opened in 1755 by Benjamin Franklin in Halifax, Nova Scotia.

Today we anticipate the arrival of the mail each day. Watching to see if their on time. Looking for a special envelope for a birth-day, party and wedding invitations, recognizing the handwriting on the envelope puts smiles on our faces. But also those dreaded bills that seem to come on schedule each month. Some days the bills out number everything else. Thats all part of life and we can always complain to make us feel better, but in the end we still depend on that link from the post office to keep us going.

Whether you live in the big cities, towns, villages or in the rural areas you will receive your mail. Sometimes its amazing how, the address could be incomplete, initals instead of names, names not always spelled correctly. But if you have a name and a city or a postal code it will miraculously arrive. The workers inside of the post office must be talented to be able to figure out the destination of each letter and to know all the people in their area and were they live.

The next time you walk into a post office give the worker behind that counter a big thank you. BECAUSE OF THEM THE MAIL DOES GO THROUGH.

Burns pool Illustrated by quilts 2009

By TIMES-JOURNAL STAFF Elgin County Museum partied Sunday like it was 1759

The museum celebrated the birth of Robbie Burns with a 90-minute Burns Day program, and the donation of three Burnsthemed quilts by St. Thomas native Marion Tews.

Now a resident of London, Ont., she is the greatgreat-great granddaughter of Burns' best friend, Gavin Hamilton.

"It's a great opportunity to put these remarkable quilts up," museum Curator Mike Baker said.

Completed about a decade ago and donated 12 months ago to the museum, the quilts illustrate verses from Burns' beloved poetry.

"She has a nice way of tackling history, visually. She also works in her own family connection."

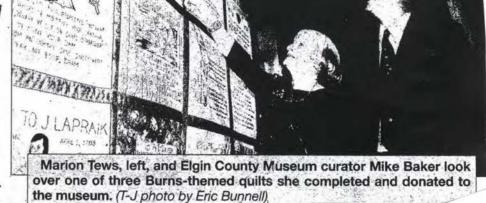

Burns dedicated his first book of poetry to Hamilton.

Tews also donated a fourth quilt also on display Sunday: a 1981 St. Thomas centennial quilt completed by her former mother-in-law, Helen Thomson, picturing landmark buildings in the community.

Tews' quilts are to be exhibited through Feb. 28. A long-case clock owned by Hamilton and now the possession of her brother, also Gavin, a London, Ont. radiologist, is at the museum for two weeks.

More than 100 people, jammed the museum on the fourth floor of the Elgin County Administration Building for a program which included readings of Burns' poetry by Glasgow-born museum volunteer Allison St. John, and an appreciation of the Bard of Scotland by St. Thomas resident Ian Hunter, a retired UWO law professor and a Burns scholar.

Refreshments included haggis tarts.
