About Tarandowah's Designer

Tarandowah's course designer, Dr. Martin Hawtree, is a third generation English golf course architect in probably the longest serving golf design office in the world. His grandfather, Frederick G. Hawtree, began the business in 1912, associating himself with J.H. Taylor, 4-time British Open winner.

Hawtree has been consulted on some of the major links courses in the UK and Ireland: Lahinch, Royal Dublin, Portmarnock, and Royal Birkdale - an Open Championship links course that all three generations of Hawtree have worked on. Martin has worked a great deal in Scotland and was consulted by the R&A over alterations at Carnoustie for the 2007 Open Championship.

How sweet it is Taking care of its trees is what gives Van Brenks' Fruit Farm its edge

by Brian Van Brenk

Van Brenks' Fruit Farm was established in 1971 when my father and mother purchased a 135-acre farm and planted a 10-acre orchard of apples. It has since grown, not just in size but also with other fruits like sweet cherries, plums, peaches, and pears.

It took more than just hard work to achieve these goals, there was SOME luck and a lot of neighbourly support. Dad grafted and grew all his own trees from M9 stock, which was new and upcoming due to its dwarf growth habit.

It didn't take long for Adrian

Broyman to notice of a good thing. "Where did you get these trees!" the Dutch apple grower exclaimed. I remember him well as he never mixed words. My dad said, "I grew them myself." And just like that we were in the nursery business.

When I was 12 years old, we once sat around the kitchen table, with Adrian, who by now was an old family friend. Adrian asked me what I wanted to be when I grew up, and just as I began to say "accountant...", he slammed his fist down on the table and yelled, "No, you're going to grow trees." Well, he was right.

As I now guarantee all the trees I sell, we strive to meet global standards driven by quality and market value. Farmers can't afford sub-standard trees and demand a level playing ground. I agree with them. That's why over the past five years, we have modernized our entire operation. I started with quality through trickle irrigation and deer fences. As production went up, I purchased specialized platform equipment that helps with the planting, growing and digging of all of our trees.

"Watch the grade," I tell my employees. "It's me who visits the apple grower to inspect his new planting. I know they look good in bundles but remember he'll see each tree individually, everyday for years and years. He's a perfectionist and YOU are too!"

This spring, I'm expecting another new piece of equipment, a multi-trek tractor which is used in weed control, root pruning, fertilizing, cultivating, rotatiling and spraying. With all the tasks it's capable of, it's not cheap, but I'm sure it will take our little family farm to the standard that is equal to or better than many larger companies in the US and Holland. We can and will compete.

Our apple growers are doing the same with their operations through much higher density growing systems that can get their newer and better varieties to the shelf faster. I'm betting you are going to eat these apples, not because they are local, but because our industry is meeting the challenge of competing with global markets.

The Farming Life

"I do not believe there ever was any life more attractive to a vigorous young fellow than life on a cattle ranch in those days. It was a fine, healthy life, too; it taught a man self-reliance, hardihood, and the value of instant decision...I enjoyed the life to the full!"

A message from your retiring program Co-ordinator -

Thanks to the program convenors, their helpers and the lunch committees. We have had many informative meetings on different topics. I'm sure we have all had our favourite. My favourite was " LAKE ERIE FISHERIES " presented by local residents Eugene {Jeep} and Joyce Sutton. They gave us a brief history going back to the 1800's when 250lbs. of fish sold for $1.00. A fisherman's wage in 1872 was $100.00 for five months. Jeep owned Plum Point Fisheries from 1947 to the late 1970's. On display were pictures and books of memories. Also featured were two replicas that Jeep had made. A pond { trap } net which in later years was replaced by the gill net. A video was taken which the family will treasure for years. Excellent!

Kay.

Hymn of All Nations

This is my song, O God of all the Nations
A song of peace for lands afar and mine
This is my love, the country where my heart is
This is my hope, my dream, my shrine
But other hearts in other lands are beating
With hopes and dreams the same as mine.

My country's skies are bluer than the ocean
And sunlight beams on clover leaf and pine
But other lands have sunlight, too, and clover
And skies are sometimes blue as mine,
Oh hear my song, then God of all the Nations
A song of peace for their land and mine.

ELGIN COUNTY DISTRICT OFFICERS 2009-2010.

Wallacetown W.I.

Kathy Minnema

High needs child

The May meeting of the Wallacetown Women's Institute was held at the South Dunwich Community Hall. There were six members, six from the Monday Quilters Dunwich Seniors Club, and eight family members present. President Helen Van Brenk opened the meeting in the usual manner. Reports were given and approved. Helen Van Brenk, Louie Lackey, Darlene Ford and Kathy Minnema will attend the District Annual on May 12 at 5:30pm at the Fingal Presbyterian Church. June 14 was set to meet at Helen Van Brenk's home at 10am to go over the programs for next year.

The meeting was then turned over to convenor Louie Lackey who welcomed guests, and read two poems "Mom's and Grandmother's" and "Before I was a Mom". The Roll Call: "Tell about your first home as a bride." There was a variety of answers: Wind lifting the carpets; Old windows cleaning took days; Some wind blowing through the windows; Lived in their Mother's house in the city; Lived in a house in Dutton rent free; Lived in Toronto with furniture supplied by owner; Shared a 2 bedroom house with an older lady and her family in England; Squeaky stairs; Hardwood floors; No closets; Montreal; Belle River in a drafty house on the beach; With bare walls; Upstairs apartments; On Dunwich Townline in a house with new cedar shingles, which attracted bats; In a house they owned with renters; The first morning after being married had to get two young brother-in-laws off to school.

Louie then played on her keyboard and everyone sang to "A Smile is Quite a Funny Thing", "W. I True", and "A Teacher's Lament".

The speaker for the day was Louie's daughter-in-law Tammy Lackey and son Paul Lackey who spoke about "Coping with the needs of a High Needs Child". The story of Brogan Sebastian Ty Lackey. Brogan was born on March 8, 2003 blue all over, mom heard a cry and that was the last time she held him for two days. Brogan was sent by helicopter from Owen Sound Hospital to London Children's Hospital. He had a soft cleft palate, three holes in his heart, multiple congenital anomalies, vision and kidney concerns, and brain abnormalities. He had to be fed with a nasal gastric feeding tube from day one every three hours. Brogan's dad started a daily diary "A New Beginning by a Father" and recorded all the procedures and the ups and downs they experienced along the way. Brogan was transferred back to Owen Sound and it was another 25 days before he came home for the first time (spending 36 days in hospital). With the help of the Community Living support, 22 specialists, family, friends, and Mom's club they have made it through eight surgery's, physio and speech therapy, seizures, high fevers, and viral asthma. Now Brogan must use a G tube for all medications. Since starting school he has needed help with developing skills, and has the use of his own electronic equipment for communicating.

Each year they make 13 trips to London for appointments and have logged 70,000 km, being able to stay at their parents farm has been a great advantage over the years for both families.

Louie thanked Tammy, Paul and Brogan who had come all the way from Meaford the day before, to see a specialist that very morning.

A lovely lunch was supplied by all the W.I. members.
