

Smash 'em', bash 'em'

Michelle Collins of Dutton smashed 'em and bashed 'em up, but was eventually beat out by Hegette Brancette of Bothwell in the Powder Puff class of the demolition derby at the Wallacetown Fair Sunday. The derby was a huge crowd pleaser, attracting about 1,000 spectators. Organizers estimate that about three to four thousand came out to the 133rd "Friendly Family Fair" over its three-day, weekend running. Fair board director Wally Tokars, who organized the derby with his wife Anna, was very pleased with the turnout and the help from volunteers, calling Sunday "a very successful day."

YOUNGSTERS DISPLAY KEEN COMPETITION - About a dozen children and the same number of animals took to the pig pens at the Wallacetown Fair on Saturday. Object of this competition was to find your numbered animal and while keeping eye contact with the judge, also keep the animal moving around the ring.

Allen and Iva Crawford

Celebrating their 67th anniversary

Allen and Iva Crawford celebrated a very special day together at The Village Health Care Centre on Monday, December 20.

This happy couple celebrated their 67th wedding anniversary together with some friends and family at a tea and cake reception. The two have been living at The Village for the past two years. The Crawfords are originally from the Wallacetown area where they farmed until 1968 and then moved right into Wallacetown.

The Crawfords had friends and family from Dutton, Wallacetown and West Lorne who came to help celebrate their special day. The Crawfords have three daughters. Doris, of Chatham, Joanne, of Wallacetown and Wilma of Chicago, Illinois.

The very best of wishes to this happy couple who tied the knot on December 20, 1926.
