

Port Burwell Marine Museum & Historic Lighthouse

History is happening right now and we need your input.

The Museum is collecting memories and experiences of COVID-19.

As a history organization, our mission is to collect and share the stories that shape us.

We would love to add to our collection your photographs, drawings, memoirs, and other items that depict what you and your family are doing during this most unusual time in our world.

Whether you farm, fish, teach, repair, counsel, cook, serve, drive, learn, or are retired, every member of the community has a story to tell.

This is your chance to share your experiences with future generations.

Place your submissions in an envelope. Be sure that your contact information is included inside. Submissions without this will be discarded.

Once officially accepted, submissions will become the property of the Museum and may be exhibited in the future.
